Micronas honored with “Global Cooperation Award” by Denso Corporation

Extraordinary global technical support and reliable supply from Micronas highly appreciated

Freiburg, May 19, 2015 – Micronas has received the “Global Cooperation Award” from Denso Corporation during a grand ceremony in Nagoya, Japan, on May 18, 2015. Micronas was recognized for its remarkable support, reliable delivery and outstanding cooperation regarding Denso’s recently started overseas operations and for Micronas’ multi-area contribution to Denso’s global business expansion.

“We are very pleased having received this award. It confirms that we are on the right path to become the most preferred partner for sensing and control”, says Bernhard Huber, Vice President at Micronas. “We are very proud having provided the worldwide automotive and industrial markets with more than three billion sensors so far. In addition, our excellent global technical support helps our customers expanding their business all over the world.”
